MISS VON BORCKE TOOK POISON.

She Was Dying When Discovered in the Wainwright Building.

IT WAS A SECOND ATTEMPT.

After a Quarrel With Her Father on Sunday She Remained in His Office and Killed Herself.

Mary Dawson, a scrub girl in the big Wainwright Building, opened the door leading into the office of Charles A. Von Borcke, Surveyor of the City of St. Louis, at 7:30 o'clock Monday morning, and discovered a handsome young woman stretched upon the floor, apparently lifeless. The scrub girl was so horrified by the ghastly sight that she stood still on the threshold and shricked for help.

Some of the early comers ran out of their offices and lifted the unconscious young woman onto a lounge. They recognized her as Miss Georgians Von Borcke, the only child of the City Surveyor, employed in her father's office as book-keeper. Dr. Irwin was sent for. He bent over the young woman for a few minutes and then anneunced that she was dying from poison.

The Dispensary physicians say that this label was a deceptive one, and that the package probably contained strychnine. A note was also found addressed to Mr. Jacob Frein, who is a clerk in Mr. Von Borcke's office. It read as follows:

JAKE-Don't order the Morgue wagon or let paps do anything rash. You know what you bromised the afternoon we went to the matine. I forgive you, Jake. You know this all yourself.

Miss Von Borcke had evidently been in her father's office all night, and she must have taken the poison several hours before Mary Dawson found her. R. A. Connor, who has an office on the same floor, was in the building Sunday afternoon, and says he heard Miss Von Borcke and her father quarreling, the old gentleman raising his voice so loud that he could be distinctly heard, though as he talked entirely in German his words were not understood. After awhile Mr. Von Borcke went away, but his daughter remained in the office, sobbing and moaning. Then all was still, and she was not heard or seen again until the scrubgirl discovered her in the agonies of suicidal death.

The story of Miss Van Borcke's life, as told by friends of the family, is a peculiarly sad one. She is 34 years old, slightly above medium height, with brown hair, blue eyes and strong features. She always appeared to be sad, and seemed to be carrying a burden of mental trouble. She was bright and intelligent, however.

to be sad, and seemed to be carrying a burden of mental trouble. She was bright and intelligent, however.

As the story goes, Miss Von Borcke could not live happliy with her mother, and five years age she left home to live in a family who were friends of her father. At present she was living in the family of Mr. Filbert, at till Wagner place, near Wells Station, on the Suburban Electric road. Since leaving home she has filled the position of book-keeper in her father's office in the Wainwright Building, and received a salary for her work. But, it appears, quarrels were also frequent between her and her father in the office. The young lady being of a sensitive nature, has allowed these family troubles to pray upon her mind for five years, until recently she became melancholy, and several times expressed the wish that she could died and end her worry.

Jacob Frein, a clerk in the office of Mr. Von Borcke, is a bright looking boy only 19 years old, with black hair, black eyes, and possesses the open, frank and ingenuous manner of youth. He has a pleasant disposition, and often extended sympathy to Miss Von Borcke in her troubles. He occasionally was her escort to the theater, and that was the only company as pleasant objected to Miss Von Borcke going out in the sympan, and this objection also added to her mental worry.

Mrs. James Ish Kills a Sewing Machine Agent.

About a month ago Mrs. Ish bought a sewing machine from this agent, but it did not work well and she found it necessary to call him a number of times to put it in order. Three or four days ago, while on one of these errands, he grossly insulted her, but she did not tell her husband, through fear, she says. Saturday Chappell was called again, but did not come until evening. When Mrs. Ish saw him coming she called to her husband, who was in his mother's yard a few doors away, and Chappell and Ish entered the house together. Chappell, after some conversation, went into the front bedroom, where the machine was, and Ish went down into the cellar after some kindling. While in the room with Mrs. Ish, Chappell again became insuiting in his manner, and on taking hold of Mrs. Ish sha began to fight him, at the same time calling for help. Immediately Chappell drew from his hip pocket a revolver, but Mrs. Ish snatched it from him and fired every chamber at him. Just at this moment Ish, who had heard his wife's cries, came running into the room, having first secured his own revolver, and his wife snatched this from his hand and fired four more shots at her assaliant. He fell to the floor shot in four places—in the neck and directly over the heart—and died instantly.

Whn ex-President Harrison's movements in New York and Philadelphia were spoken of and reference was made to the Depew dinner, Mr. Whitney smiled and said: "Yes, it looks very much as if ex-President were after the Republican nomination." It was suggested there would probably be hard work to do in the next convention. Mr. Whitney smiled as he said: "Well, I shail be in the struggle, if there is an intellectual one for sound money, you may be assured."

NEW YORK, June 10.—Leading Democrats here do not take kindly to the Springfield convention. James C. Carter said: "The possible effect of this free silver agitation upon the Democratic party is too vague to discuss at this time. I am certainly in favor of a gold standard."

Everett P. Wheelar, who ran for Governor on the Independent Democratic ticket last fall, said: "I am confident that the majority of the Democratic party in Illinois is not committed to absolute free coinage of silver. Many are for a gold standard, and many are undecided and open to conviction. I believe that the sound money Democrats will control the next National Convention. The South will stand with us. I do not believe that the people of Minnesota, Michigan and Missouri want free coinage of silver. The silver men just now are talking loud, but the general improvement of trade will quiet them. I believe, however, that the silver people will organize a third party, if neither of these two great parties adopts a silver plank. In this event the Republicans will suffer the greater loss, because most of the mining States are Republican, as are the Western agricultural States, in which free silver is much more popular."

Comprioler Ashbell P. Fitch said: "It is clear to me that the Democratic party of the Essatern and Middle States cannot be States, in which free silver is much more popular."

Comptroller Ashbell P. Fitch said: "It is clear to me that the Democratic party of the Eastern and Middle States cannot be taken into any such arrangement as the Springfield convention has in mind. These people in Illinois and Kentucky who are attempting to carry the Democrats over to the Populist party on this issue will be manfully fought in Illinois by Senator Palmer, National Committeeman Ben Cable, Comptroller Eckles and other Democrats of brains, intelligence and influence, and in Kentucky by Senator Carlisic and the other strong men of the party who follow his leadership. In the South the opposition to tree silver is led by some of the strongest men that the Democratic party has in Congress, supported by the influential newspapers of almost all the large cities of the South. The return of prosperity, which seems now to be at hand, will, I believe, take most of the life and enthusiasm out of the free coinage crusade."

NEW YORK, June 18.—Gov. Thornton of New Mexico, who is here, said last night that the Democratic party in the West was a unit for free silver.

"We expect," said he, "that the free silver wing of the Democracy will capture the next convention and nominate someone who is in sympathy with the needs of the West. This is the only hope there is for the life of the party. The talk of the silver Democrats breaking away and joining the Populists is all nonsense. We will have nothing to do with Populists. I don't want to see Harrison nominated by the Republicans. He is a powerful strong man out our way. We believe he has a leaning for silver. Of course, he couldn't be expected to say much about silver while he was here, where the gold bugs bloom all the year. Our people have an idea that the ex-President is all right on the silver question. I don't know how they got the idea, but it is growing all the time."

Besides all the delegates who will come to Memphis while the convention is in progress, indications now point to the presence of at least 10,000 visitors in the city.

So strongly have the promoters of the convention become impressed with the immensity of the crowd that will be here that they have long since despaired of accommodating all in the Auditorium, and have accordingly secured the Grand Opera-house for overflow meetings, so that while the convention proper is deliberating in the Auditorium, and prominent men being heard there, other statesmen will be addressing audiences in the Grand. The league proposes to make resolutions expressive of silver views by the convention.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 10.-The fire which broke out at 2 o'clock this morning in the barns of the Forster Lumber Co., Cape and Cherry streets, spread rapidly to ad-joining coal and lumber yards and soon cov-ered an area of three blocks along both sides

Sparks communicated the flames to the large barns of the Schlitz Brewing Co., and gotten under control. The steamer Raleigh, lying at Uhrig's Docks, had her upper works badly damaged and the schooner Lucy Graham's spars and rigging were destroyed. The principal losers were B. were swept away and a large amount of coal ruined. Forster & Co. lost the greater part of their lumber, besides their barn and sixteen horses.

Barns in the immediate vicinity of the fire contained at least 300 horses, and as the animals were released by policemen and fremen they ran through the streets, to the terror of the crowd which had been attracted to the scene. When the fire reached the loft of the Schlitz barns about 11,000 tons of hay went up in a puff and sent a pyramid of fiames hundreds of feet into the air. Fortunately, there was little wind at the time. Had there been a stiff southeasterly breeze the loss would have reached millions, as the river and canal in that vicinity is lined with immense tanneries the plants of which embrace combustible oil and bark sheds. Two fire tugs did remarkable service; one, the Foley, steamed through a long lane of living flames to reach the steamer Raleigh and save her from total destruction.

Several lines of freight cars stood upon the tracks of the St. Paul Road in the vicinity of the Schlitz barns, but they were saved by constant watching.

At 3:10 a. m. the danger to surrounding property was over and the firemen turned their attention to the blazing coal and lumber piles. They were still at work on the ruins to-day. Fire Chief Foley estimates the loss at between $60,000 and $75,000, but it will undoubtedly exceed that xum.

The plant of the Brodesser Company, elevator manufacturers on Commerce atreet, the rear abutting on the canal, was damaged to the extent of $5,000.

Insurance men say the loss will not exceed $50,000, as most of the lumber piles are simply charred on the ends and the lumber can be resawed. They figure that the loss on the University the loss is ridiculously small. Insurance people attribute their escape from disastrous loss to the fact that yeather conditions were all favorable to them.

LUCKY HE WENT CRAZY. An Alabama Farmer Becomes a Multi-

Millionaire by Having No Sense. MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 10 .- T. M. Allen, a Calhoun County farmer, went to San Francisco in 1875. He bought land in the suburbs. Later on he was attacked by toughs and was reported dead when his long silence led to inquiries. He was living, but was insane from the treatment received. Now he has recovered his reason, and finds that his suburban investment was right in the line of the city's development, and the property is valued at $18,000,000. His wife died years ago, He has three children—Mrs. Dr. J. F. Acton and Mrs. M. L. Garrett of Anniston. Ala, and W. H. Allen of Florida, They will proceed at once to San Francisco.

Four Suffocated in an Alpine Tunnel. Four Suffocated in an Alpine Tunnel.

DENVER, Colo., June 10.—Yesterday morning the bodies were recovered of the four men who were suffocated in the Alpine Tunnel Saturday by the smoke and gas from the locomotive on which they were riding. They had gone into the poorly-ventilated tunnel with the locomotive to siphon out water which had accumulated, when overcome by the gas and smoke. The victims were M. W. Flavin, superintendent of construction; N. Martenis, engineer; Michael Burns, fireman; Oscar Cammen, miner.

Two men were killed and eleven injured on the mountain two weeks ago. It is probable that the tunnel will now be abandoned.

She gave her name as Henrietta Snow, 18 years old, and told a peculiar story. She said her father died about a year ago, and her mother remarried and died soon after. Then her stepfather married again, and he and his wife were cruel to the children. She claimed to be earning $\text{S}$ a week at Holman's box factory and that her brother worked for Lahly, the tailor. The whole story was a pure fabrication. Capt. O'Malley investigated and found the parents.

The girl is said to have been leading a questienable life, although of such tender years. She will be sent to her grandmother at Fredericktown, Mo. In hopes of securing her release before her parents could be located she said her grandmother, Josephine Snow, lives at a small town below Carondelet, and asked to be sent there. She ran away from home three years ago.

BUZZARD'S BAY, Mass., June 10.—The Government lighthouse tender Verbena has just been overhauled and her cabin conjust been overhauled and her cabin constructed and refitted in such a costly way that it is supposed the steamer will be placed at the disposal of the President and family during the coming season. Hitherto the President has seemed well satisfied with his catboat Ruth. The Consolidated Road has also built a snug little station near the Cleveland cottage and called it "Gray Gables." Henceforth the President's visitors will stop there, for the main drive to the house leads from that point. Mr. Cleveland has shut off his grounds with a substantial fence which people cannot crawl under. A new sign ornamenta a board fastened upon a poet at the terminus of the cross country path. It reads:

"Tresspassing or shooting on these premises is positively forbidden.

Chidsey of the Lindell. Clerk Chidsey of the Lindell, like most hotel clerks, is used to receiving all sorts of letters from all sorts of people, but he is puxiled over one now which, he confesses, is too much for him. This is the letter:

BUFFALO, N. T., June 6, 1866.

Gentlemen—in case my wife, Mrs. Hattie Weisman, should register at your hotel to-day or tomorrow, who, by mistake went to St. Louis instead of Ruffalo, you will greatly oblige a much worried husband and wife by telling her to telegraph to No. 26 Oak street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Thanking you in advance, I am very respectfully yours,

Mr. Chidsey is considerably interested in the case. He can't understand how Mrs. Weisman is likely to land in St. Louis instead of Buffalo, but he would like to have the mystery cleared up. Mr. Chidsey, if any one has heard anything of Mrs. Weisman, would like to know it.

Mr. Chidsey says that as this is a big country a woman who confuses St. Louis with Buffalo is likely to get almost anywhere in a short time. Clerk Chidsey of the Lindell, like most h of the institution, Archbishop Kain officiating, assisted by a great number of the local clergy.

Bervices began at 5.20 o'clock, when Rev. Cornelius Kane celebrated mass. This was followed by the Community services at 6 o'clock, Chaplain Shields officiating. At 7 o'clock the ceremony of the religious profession began. After the singing of "Come, Holy Spirit." Rev. M. M. Harts, S. J., of the St. Louis University, preached the sermon, taking for his theme the story of the young man who asked Christ what he should do to be saved and was told to sell all and follow the Master that he might obtain the hundred-fold reward on earth and life everlasting in the hereafter. The invitation and the reward, said the speaker, are the same which Christ extends to those he favors with a call to the religious life.

After the sermon the Archbishop called the candidates from their places in the nun's choir, and, removing their white vells, replaced them with the black head dress. They then pronounced the solemn vows of powerty, chastity and obedience. The two novices then prostrated themselves at the foot of the altar and were covered with a black pall to signify their burial from the world. During the prostration the Community chanted the "De Profundis." On arising they were given a silver crucifix, the order's emblem of profession, and then took their places among the Community of which they were complete miembers.

Mass followed, celebrated by Archbishop Kain, at which Miss Edna Muhall, daughter of Dr. Muihall, and a pupil of the institution, made her first communion.

The services closed with benediction, during which the pupils rendered an excellent musical programme. The soloists were Misses Lynette Call and Myra Brennan and Sister Mary Fidelis is a daughter of Mr. Michael Cleary and a niece of Mr. Redmond Cleary of Dubuque, Ia. Her elder sister, Sister Aquin, has been a member of the Community for several years.

STILL TALKING SILVER.

Missouri Democrats Can Find Little

Else to Discuss Now.

A number of well-known Missourians arrived in the city Monday morning, and around the Laclede Hotel it looked as if the advance guard of a Democratic Convention had come in. They were not here to talk politics, they said, but most of them had something to say about silver and the State Convention.

Ex-Congressman Charles H. Morgan told his friends that he was out of politics, hones.

"But I can't see any objection at all to holding a State Convention." he said.

Of course, I would regard any attempt to form a new organization as unfortunate, but I haven't any idea that why here should be any objection to holding a convention in that."

The State Committee should regard the supermost now. Of course, I would regard any attempt to form a new organization as unfortunate, but I haven't any idea that the supermost now. the money question that therefore Missouri can't do it. This is especially true when it is remembered that most of the ten admitted that they didn't represent the views of their people. I see that three more counties declared for a convention Saturday, which makes fifty-one now that indorse Mr. Farris' call. Fifty-six is a majority, and there will be two-thirds before they are all through. There can be no taking the back track now."

Btate Committeeman Tom Connors of Joplin was in evidence at the Laclede again. He hadn't changed his opinion any since he voted for a convention. He is still against it personally, but is still in favor of the committeemen doing what the Democrats of their districts want done. He doesn't know what the committee will do if the majority of the counties petition for a reconsideration of its action, but personally he is ready to vote for a convention.

Senator Bledsce of Cass County said while he was in favor of free silver, he thought a State Convention would be an error. He believed that the votes of Missouri's congress, and the action of the last State Convention, were proof enough of how the State stood on silver. He thought a State Convention now could do no good. Cass County, Senator Bledsce's home, has held a convention and declared in favor of free silver and a State Convention.

BUSINESS IS REVIVING.

Wholesale Firms Report a Gratifying Condition of Affairs.

A general revival of business in all lines is being experienced in St. Louis. Traveling is being experienced in St. Louis. Traveling salesmen are all out in their respective territories and a considerable number of country merchants are already beginning to visit the market. Orders from salesmen are, as a rule, for future shipment, but immediate orders are of a very satisfactory character. The shoe merchants are doing a phenomenally large business, probably owing to the anticipated further advance, as well as to the growing popularity of St. Louis shoes. As illustrating this, one salesman has turned in for three weeks orders averaging $1,000 per day.

The clothing line shows a healthy increase. Hat and cap jobbers are doing a very satisfactory business. Hardware houses are unusually very dull at this season, is showing a decided improvement over the same period last year.

EVERY TURN HAS ITS FIGHT

Vaudeville at Wells Accompanied by Violence and Pistols.

MUST PAY COMING AND GOING

Innocent Victims of the Loop Trap Mulcted for Second Fares by the Game Now Practiced.

"High-class vaudeville," as the bill-boards say, was intermingled with both high and low-grade beer at the Suburban Park, just beyond Wells Station, on the St. Louis & Buburban electric line, Sunday night. There was some fine tumbling on the stage and several rough and tumble fights on the grounds. Beer flowed as freely as water from a mountain spring. Finally at midnight the police officers of the street railroad company, in attempting to catch some "High-class vaudeville," as the bill-board road company, in attempting to eatch some road company, in attempting to catch some fleeing prisoners, shot revolvers in the air, and the night's entertainment ended in an exciting pyrotechnic display that had not been advertised on the bills.

The crowds that poured into Suburban Park came by the thousands. Cars, loaded down with humanity, ran one minute apart, and the five acres of ground overflowed with people. An hour afterward a large number overflowed with beer.

No charge of admission is made, the only proviso being that a patron shall ride in and ride out on a Suburban line car. The three or four bars in the place did a rushing business all night. In fact, the bars are the chlef source of revenue. The vaudeville show is a sort of side feature to attract people to a place where saloon bars are found on every hand and where saloon waiters jab one in the ribs at every step. The stage performance had not progressed through three cturns before there were three fights in the crowd. As the grounds are in the county, deputy sheriffs sworn in especially to protect the Suburban Park were promptly on hand to make the arrests. Two waiters and a patron engaged in a dispute over a bottle of beer and a fight took place. All three were arrested by the special officers, but later the waiters were released and the patron held. So the night went on, with a fight punctuating the free show about every hour.

The Suburban Railroad Cq. had a special fight punctuating the free show about every hour.

The Suburban Railroad Cq. had a special car standing on the track to carry prisoners to Florisant. It is known as the "prisoners' car," and might be described as a Black Maria gun by electricity. About 11:30 o'clock the officers were taking four prisoners over to this car, when two broke away and ran across the loop grounds near the pavilion. The officers opened fire with their revolvers and shot five or six times in the air as they were chasing the fleeing prisoners. Two or three thousand persons came rushing down the hill to the scene of the shooting, ladies and children screamed from fright, there was a ducking of heads in the loaded cars standing on the loep, and the whole vicinity was a scene of wild excitement. One of the fleeing prisoners was captured, but the other escaped by scaling a high picket fence and running down the tracks like a Western jack-rabbit. The prisoners' car, manned with deputy sheriffs, finally rolled away for Florissant with three or four prisoners in custody. They were locked up in a rude jail in that old French town last night, and their cases will be tried before a Justice of the Peace Tuesday morning. Attorney Settle of Ferguson will prosecute the cases for the county. If convicted, the prisoners will either pay a fine of go to the rock pile at Clayton.

One peculiar feature of one arrest last ither pay a fine or go to the rock pile at layton.

One peculiar feature of one arrest last ight was that one of the young men who ngaged in a fight had escorted a young ady to the show. After the arrest the officer took him to the company's office at he grounds. He refused to give his name, and requested that the officer accompany im back to the scene of the fight in order hat he could give the young lady car fare or return home. But the young lady car fare or return home. But the young lady had led in dismay and could not be found in he vast crowd. As the company will not llow anyone to walk out of the grounds, but compels a person to pay 5 cents to ride ut in a Suburban car, the mystery is how lid the young lady get home.

John D. Wiley of the firm of J. W. Sultzer took, sign painters, 224 Locust street, took its wife and three small children out to Ramona Park, west of the Suburban Park, ast night. "We boarded a car to return home," said Mr. Wiley, "but we were landed in Suburban Park against our wishes, I wanted to take my family outside to the copy of the Easton avenue line near by, that carries me to my home, but the guards loop of the Easton avenue line near by that carries me to my home, but the guards at the gate refused to allow my family and me to pass out. I appealed to Supt. Sneed, and he talked in an insulting mammer and called a police officer and threatened to have me arested. I was compelled to pay fares for all of my family to ride two blocks distant in order to get out and take another line of cars. I don't care for the fares, but I do object to being landed in Suburban Park against my will, and then being compelled, under threats of arrest, to pay to get out again."

STABBED WITHOUT CAUSE.

Vicious Assault Upon a Bricklayer by Two Toughs.

Frank W. Hogan, a bricklayer, was assaulted at Eleventh and Franklin avenue at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon by John at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon by John Cornwall and Edward Moron. There was no provocation for the assault. Hogan had just finished a glass of beer, when his two assailants entered and called for drinks. While the barkeeper waited on them Hogan walked out, followed by Cornwall and Moron. Once outside the two men beset Hogan victously. One held him while the other plunged a knife into his body several times. Both men were caught after a block's chase by Patrolmen Sheahan, McDonough and Dowling. Hogan positively identified Cornwall and Moron as his assailants and says that he never saw them before. The wounded man was removed to St. John's Hospital, where he lies in a precarious condition.

DIOCESAN CHANGES

None Will Take Place Until Archbishop Kain Convokes the Synod.

The decrees of the Third Plenary Council of Baltimore have been promulgated and are in force in the archdiocese of St. Louis. They were promulgated just one year ago during the first diocesan retreat for the clergy held here in many years. The announcement of their promulgation was exclusively made at the time in the Poet-Dispatch.

clusively made at the time in the Fost-Dispatch.

The fact of their promulgation seems to have been overlooked, as statements have been appearing in print for several days past regarding the new Archbishop's enforcement of the decrees and his mode of procedure under them.

It can safely be stated that no changes will be made for the present. The Archbishop's time is now wholly occupied in giving confirmation. The division of parish boundaries, on which a commission has been working for months, the appointment of irremoveable rectors and diocessin consultors will not take place until the Archbishop convokes his first synod. This will not be called until after he receives the pallium.

The five men did everything they could without violating the cruelty to animals law, and were mildly encouraged by hundreds of bridge promenaders, but it was of no avail. The mule just would not move. Finally one of the men, in his efforts, slipped the halter off the mule's head. With a bray that sounded to Carondelet the beast wheeled around and flew to the soil of Illinois, leaving his discomfited tormentors behind.

young Hungarian journalist named Hungaill.

Miss Pixley's family did not look kindly upon her relations with the Hungarian, and domestic squalls drove the girl from home. She joined the J. R. Kelly Company and played minor parts through Wyoming and Nebraska. Hungaill went with her, but unlike Swengail he could not hypnotize her into star engagements. The girl's family made repeated efforts to induce her to return to them, but Miss Pixley refused, and even the steady remittances that flowed from the parental coffers into the hands of the young lady by way of letters and drafts had no effect upon her. She came to St. Louis, joined the company at Terrace Park and broke her engagement to run away with her good-looking lover.

BRONAUGH NOT SO SURE.

Intimation That He May Not Be Appointed Coal Oil Inspector.
W. C. Bronaugh of Clinton, brother of the Coal-Oil Inspector, is here on his way to Jefferson City. He is said to be stirred up Jefferson City. He is said to be stirred up over his brother's chances of reappointment and is going to see the Governor about it.

One of the rumors that his presence revived is that when J. C. Bronaugh was appointed it was with the understanding that he would be satisfied with two years and that the Governor is thinking about holding him to his agreement. If he concludes to do so it is said that Thad Harris may be considered for the place, instead of for the associate election commissionership.

At all events, Mr. W. C. Bronaugh's presence, on the way to see the Governor, is believed to be an indication that his brother's reappointment is not as sure a thing as it was supposed to be.

THROWN OUT OF A CAR WINDOW

Crazed Russian Woman's Deadly Treatment of Her Babe.

CHILD MORTALLY INJURED.

She Was En Route for St. Louis, But No Trace of Her Husband, Said to Be in the City, Can Be Found.

Conductor Mansfield of the Big Four, who arrived in St. Louis at 7 p. m. Sunday and left at 8 a. m. Monday, told a strange story sian woman named Konopka, on her way to St. Louis, pitched her child through the window.

She was crary and was being watched by J. D. Finley, a trusted employ of the Big Four. But the woman's frenzy was keener even than her keeper's practical mind, and, although he had raised the sash, she pitched her infant against the pane, which broke with the force of the blow.

The screaming baby was torn and lacerated by the jagged edges of the glass, and its little body was crushed and bruised on the hard road bed beside the track. Its injuries are mortal.

Mrs. Konopka was the least horrified of the passengers. She peered through the broken window at her chil' in a dazed sort of way and raved in her native tongue. Mr. Finley stopped the train as quickly as he could, and the baby was taken on board. The train pulled into the Terre Haute station and Mrs. Konopks was turned over to the police preliminary to her commitment to an insane asylum. The half-dead infant was put in a hospital and the crasy woman's two other children, boys, aged 9 and 6 years, were placed in the Home of the Friendless.

Conductor Mansfield in speaking of the woman's wild deed said: "She was on the train when I took charge at Indianapolis. Mr. Finley, an experienced baggage man, was taking care of the woman and her three children. EDMUNDS - BRECKENRIDGE.

Wedding of the Well-Known Jurist to the Daughter of an Old Family.

An important social event is the wedding of Judge Henry Littleton Edmunds and Miss Almy Breckenridge, fourth daughter of the late Judge Samuel M. Breckenridge and Mrs. Breckenridge of 2221 Locust stree and highly esteemed in society and among the members of the St. Louis Club, where he has been, a familiar figure for many years. Judge Edmunds came to St. Louis in 1876, having just completed his course at the university of his native State (Virginia), where his name is one of the most prominent and well known in the Eastern part. He met Miss Almy Breckenridge while she was yet a child in the school-room, and from that time to the present has been her faithful admirer, developing into a suitor for the young lady's hand as soon as she had made her formal debut in society and had seen something of the world. The bride's many charms and graces are known to St. Louis society.

The marriage takes place at 6 p. m. at 2221 Locust street, residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. S. M. Breckenridge, Rev. Dr. Niccolis officiating. It will be very quiet, only the members of the two families of the contracting parties being present, owing to the recent death of the bride's present.

only the members of the two-families of the contracting parties being present, owing to the recent death of the bride's maternal grandmother. Mrs. Virginia Castleman. There will be no attendants. The house will be prettily decked in greens, June roses and cut flowers.

The bride, who is rather tall, with a slender, graceful figure, will wear a gown of pure white origandy over white silk, simply made and trimmed with superb old rose point. She will wear a vell of white tulle and carry a bouquet of illies of the valley. Judge and Mrs. Edmunds leave at once for the East and Virginia, where they will visit his relatives before returning to St. Louis, when they will be domiciled at the Grand Avenue Hotel until the departure of Mrs. Edmunds' mother and sister for Europe.

RECEIVER REFUSED.

Flitcraft Denies the Motion of J. H. Dunlap of the Mound City Co. Dunlap of the Mound City Co.
Judge Filteraft Monday morning denied the motion, made January last by J. H.
Dunlap, at that time president of the Mound City Hardware Co., for a receiver for that company and dismissed the plaintiff's bill.
In rendering the decision the judge ruled that none of the charges made in the aplication for a receiver had been substantiated.
The application for a receiver alleged that H. W. Quernheim, secretary-treasurer and manager of the concern, had misappropriated the funds of the company and had generally mismanaged the business.
Since the filing of the application Dunlap has died. His death caused the delay in bringing the case to determination. The decision is looked upon by the stockholders of the company as a complete vindication of be'll want to cut me open," she said, with said premonition.

Dr. Spencer Graves, the family physician, arrived at 7 o'clock Saturday evening. He at once diagnosed the case as advanced appendicitis. He called Dr. Mudd into consultation. They decided that an immediate operation was necessary to save the child's slife. At 10:30 o'clock the operation was successfully performed. The physicians were elated over the hopeful outcome of their work. Yet the fittle one failed to rally. Either the shock of the operation or the effects of the chloroform necessarily administered was too much for her system. Without every rallying, the little one passed away at 1 o'clock Sunday morning.

The aggravating cause of appendicitis in the little one's case is not known.

Dr. J. J. Ryan is a Canadian by birth. He married Miss Curtis in Paris, where she resided. Mr. Curtis is a Chleagoan, but has resided in St. Louis since the fire in 1872. Little Helena will be buried Tuesday. The interment will be private.

WHISTLER'S IMPROVEMENTS.

Work Begun Upon the Site of the Old Cyclorama Building.

Work on the improvement of the prop Chicago commenced Monday morning with excavation for a foundation for a $100,000 five story store and hotel building fronting five story store and hotel building fronting on Washington avenue and a four story apartment house on Lucas avenue.

The lot has a frontage of 146 feet eleven inches on the north side of Washington avenue, just west of Thiricenth street, and extending through to Lucas avenue, where it has the same frontage. The fee of the property is held by broker James Campbell. Mr. Whistler secured the lease for $12,00 per year, for ninety-nine years.

It was stated, at first that a wholesale building was to be erected, but Mr. Whistler announces that this plan has been dropped in favor of a hotel for the accommodation of gentlemen only. Bachelors will be favored and extra inducements will be offered them to take up quarters in the new building. The ground floor will be rented to retail storekeepers.

AMUSEMENTS.

The second week of summer opera at the Cave began Sunday night with a production of "The Chimes of Normandy." The special feature of the performance was the success of Miss Toma Hanlon as Serpolette, the Good-for-Nothing. There was a dash of ginger about her soubrette work that caught the crowd to an unusual debree, and she is now thoroughly well established, even in this short space of time, as a warm favorite in the hearts of the Cave patrons.

Mr. Deston's Gaspard was an excellent plece of work. He maintained his reputation in this role. Mr. Pruette as Henri, Mr. Lyding as Jean Grenichent and Mr. Sykes as the Bailli were all excellent.

The Sunday night concerts on the Union Trust Roof Garden have proved a success and will be continued throughout the season. Last night the weather was fit and the airy heights of the roof were filled with pleasure seekers. The bill consisted of an olio of the performers of last and this week. Among them were George Adams and family, Lincoln Edward, a female impersonator, and Don Mason, a German comedian.

The weather was stifling Sunday, but that did not keep the people from Haviin's Theater, where a combined hill of drama and vaudeville was presented. The play was "The Golden Glant Mine," with Horace Vinton and Edna Clayton in the leading roles. These two leading people have become marked favorites in the short time they been playing in St. Louis, and their presence here for a longer time would be grateful to theater goers. Among the specialty ritists were Kitty Clayton, Howard and Bland, Scott Lawrence and Joseph H. Hira.

None of the drawers of the desks in the office were broken open.

The intruder was evidently in search of the transcripts of evidence in certain cases investigated by the Coroner.

These papers would be of great value to attorneys in cases where incriminating evidence had been found against parties implicated in deaths that have been officially investigated. Whether the papers in any particular case were sought, or whether the intruder intended a general raid for the purpose of selling the papers is not known.

There is no clew, and as nothing is missing, so far as known, there is no way in which trace of the would-be thief can be secured. The papers in the office will be carefully overhauled for fear the intruder may have had a key to the desks and extracted the records he wanted without disturbing other papers.

AT MEMPHIS THIS WEEK.

The real Memphis Convention will be gin its session on Wednesday next. If a majority of the delegates who have been appointed attend the convention, it will a much larger gathering than the "sound money" convention held in Memphis last month.

It will also be a much more representa tive gathering. At the May convention there were scarcely any Democrats, except Secretary Carlisle, who had ever been heard of outside of their respective communities. They were mostly local bankers and members of local boards of trade, and for the most part they repre sented dollars, not votes.

At Wednesday's convention, on the contrary, the delegates will be for the most part leading and representative citizens, of great influence in their respective communities and a large number of them known throughout the It will be a convention that will have the right to claim that it speaks the real sentiments of the masses of the people of the West and South.

It is to be hoped that there will be good attendance from Missouri. The delegates named by Gov. Stone compris Republicans and Populists as well as ocrats and are really representative prevailing sentiment of Missouri on the money question. All the delegates named who can possibly attend should be in Memphis on Wednesday morning.

WANTON STREET CAR CRIMES.

Motorman John Murphy of the Cass Avenue Electric Railway, whose car ran down and maimed little deaf-and-di Wicar at Seventh and Biddle streets Saturday, is reported to have said that his car was running at unusua ed because no other street railway es the Cass Avenue Line at this oint and that he saw a number of people moving over the track, but supposed that ild get out of the way.

would get out of the way.
What right has a motorneer to rushinto crowd of people at unusual speed on the on that they will get out of his way? What right has he to suppose that in a crowded and noisy street all will hear his gong or will be able to get out of his way? The fact that a deaf-and-dumb girl was in the throng and was run over proves that acting upon such a theory constitutes criminal negligence. The deaf, the blind, the inattentive and all who are confused by street sights and ds are in great danger when a rneer runs his car on such a look--yourself and devil-take-the-hind-

The obligation not to run over people is as great on the motorneers as the ob-ligation not to be run over is on the pedestrians. In equity, humanity and law it is the duty of the motorneer to at he does not run over any one if recaution can prevent it. The law es him at the first sign of danger requires him at the first sign of danger when persons are approaching the track to stop his car.

This poor, helpless, deaf-and-dumb girl was maimed and perhaps fatally injured because the motorneer recklessly disregarded both law and humanity and because the railway company has neglected to equip its care with life-saving fenders. It is impossible longer to view such ac-ned the superiority which is now indisputed. It contained 182 columns of reading matter, as compared with 170 columns in the Sunday Globe-Democrat and 150 columns in the Sunday Republic. Its colored cover was rich in humor, and the entire paper was coplously and beau-tifully illustrated. In its pictures the lunday Post-Dispatch is without a rival outside of New York City. There were 85 columns of advertising in yester day's Sunday Post-Dispatch, as compared with 64 columns in the corresponding Sunday issue of last year, a gain of more than 40 per cent. There were 50 columns of the announce of our local merchants, as compared with 47 columns in the Republic, In circulation the Sunday Post-Dispatch is

The progress of Japan in all the arts of civilization is the wonder of the world. Within the lifetime of one generation this nation has been aroused from Oriental lethargy and has emerged from barbarism lethargy and has emerged from barbarism to be the rival in war, manufacturing, trade and all the lines of activity which make a people great, of Western nations that have been struggling towards higher civilization for centuries.

One of the most potent conditions contributing to her rapid march towards civilization is thus described by Count Okuma, who is regarded as the coming man in Japan, and who, as Minister of Finance, tried to place Japan on a gold basis, but quickly concluded that it would be a stupendous blunder to do so, and receded from the attempt: Under a silver standard Japan has pros-pered, and is prospering as perhaps no other nation in the world is. In the prodother nation in the world is. In the prod-ucts of Japan, and in labor, our silver money is as valuable as ever. Its purchas-ing power is the same. Abroad our prod-ucts, owing to the appreciation of gold, sell higher. We are therefore enabled to sell our products in the markets of the East cheaper than those of any gold stand-ard country, and make a large profit. In time with the present relative value of the

The favorite argument of the gold m metallists is that the free use of silver is a bar to progress and places a nation at a disadvantage in trade and industry with gold standard countries. Here is the highest testimony coupled with the proof of actual experience that the free use of silver has been the strongest factor in the remarkable advancement of Japan.

THE DUST NUISANCE.

St. Louisans who went to the parks and suburbs yesterday for relief from the heat of the city rushed into a greater affliction-they were choked with dust.

Every avenue to the parks from downtown, every avenue between Forest Park and Tower Grove Park and every roadway to the suburbs was thick with suffocating dust. The dust was annoying on Lindell boulevard and several inches deep on the roadways in Forest Park. The atmosphere was filled with fine powder which destroyed the greater part of the pleasure to be derived from driving. cycling or walking. The discomfort of the heat was increased and the enjoyment of the day was marred. Instead of being refreshed by the day's outing people returned soiled and disgruntled.

That the city people were debarred from the enjoyment of the parks and suburbs and were made to suffer great negligence. The people pay enough for sprinkling, but do not get the worth of their money. The sprinkling contracts are not enforced and sprinkling inspection is a farce.

Park 'Commissioner Ridgeley, whose duty is to see that Forest Park is in good condition at all times and especially on the one holiday of the week, is off on a leave of absence. The people who em-ploy him and others to look after their comfort and who pay to keep the roads and parks in condition have to stay at home and suffer.

THE KEY TO CUBA.

It is evident that the situation of the Spanish Government in Cuba is much more critical than has been suspected hitherto. Despite the rigid censorship of press dispatches, sufficient truth has filtered through to show widespread disaffection and unexpected strength on the part of the revolutionists. The action of the Spanish Government in sending ten additional battalions of infantry to Cuba is proof of this, and of the increased hengions and difficulties of the th authorities in Cuba. leaders of the Cuban revolution heir friends in this country are and their friends in this country are probably right in their opinion that the time is ripe for a vigorous stroke which will throw the balance finally on the side of Cuban independence. But they are probably wrong in thinking that this stroke can be delivered by means of fill-bustering expeditions for the reinforcement of the Cuban insurgents.

The key to Cuba is the sea. As long as Spanish composite can paired the Cuban anish gunboats can patrol the Cuban ist undisturbed and control the ports, ain can send reinforcements and suppose to prolong the war and can make bustering expeditions costly and damous. The Cuban insurgents have no securing recognition from other nations while the coast, the ports and the means of communication are in command of the Spanlards.

A first-class cruiser and some torpedo boats would do more for the cause of Cuban independence than fifty fillibuster-ing expeditions. If the Cuban revolution-ists could secure enough sea-power to send the old Spanish gunboats which patrol the Cuban coast and hold the Cuban ports to the bottom they would achieve a ports to the bottom they would achieve a real master stroke. They would assure the downfall of Spanish rule.

Spain is weak on the sea and not much sea-power would be required to cut her off from Cuba, but whatever the cost, it is worth all the resources, energy and ingenuity of the Cuban sympathizers to try it.

To-morrow's Post-Dispatch will contain the first of a series of twelve editorials on "The Money Question," which will be published in successive daily issues until completed. These twelve editorials will deal with all the fundamental questions that constitute the financial problem as it now confronts the American people. They are elementary in their method of treatment, and the aim has been to make them easily understood by plain people who are not informed on all the intricacies of the money question. They make easily intelligible what is meant by bimetallism, free coinage, ratio, parity, standard of value, and the like. time, with the present relative value of the money metals, Japan should become one of the great manufacturing nations of the world, and certainly control the markets of discuss the money question. > Any one who wants to find out what is Gov. Stone's position on the State Convention question can do so by reading his authorized interview in Saturday's Post-Dispatch. He wants the convention called by the State Committee. He believes the State Committee will call it. But he does not say that if the State Committee again refuses to call it that will end the matter. He knows that if the Dem of Missouri have made up their minds to have a convention, they will find a way of having it-with the committee by prefer ence, but without it if necessary. The demand for a convention is not dying out since the committee voted against calling it. On the contrary it has grown more emphatic. Gov. Stone believes that when the committee is made to realize this it will reconsider its former action and yield to the people's wishes.

The new Canadian Sault Ste. THE STATE CONVENTION.

From the Dunklin County Democrat.

After giving but two days' notice, Chman Maffitt of the State Central Commin called that body together last Saturda St. Louis to consider the advisability of ing a State Convention to consider financial question. Had Mr. Marcally desired that the masses of the souri Democracy know of the meeting would have given the country press timpublish the notice. But no, the schwas to railroad the meeting through.

The result was exactly as was to have be expected.

The committee met in a room behind locked doors, a star chamber affair, and discussed the question of a convention for two hours. Then it took a recess and went as Mr. Maffit's guests to the races and remained all the afternoon. Returning at night, the committee again entered its private parlor and partook of a private banquet that had been spread by order of Committeeman Carroll, a railroad attorney and a recognised gold standard advocate. Then the committee again discussed the convention question and defeated it by a vote of ten to five.

From the Kirksville Democrat.

It has been charged that our Democratic State Central Committee were handling our affairs after the order of a lot of little boys, hence a portion of our recent losses. It does look as though the action of a majority of the Committee in arrogantly refusing to call a convention in the face of the almost universal demand, warants the charge made against them. Missouri Democrats are a fearless, independent lot of citizens, who believe in the rule of the majority and not the rule of the minority. They want a State convention and if they don't have it, we will lose our guess. Missouri Democrats are not lose our guess. Missouri Democrats are not used to being bossed by a lot of boys, who practically know nothing of the condition of things throughout the great interior, or for that matter in St. Louis either.

From the Nelson Time Card. Some of the State Committee who are claiming that the masses of the Democratic party are opposed to calling a convention would never have been elevated to the positions they occupy had the matter been decided by a vote of the people.

From the Maimi News. Dr. James R. Brown of this county, Demo-cratic State Committeeman for the Seventh district, should either represent the wishes of the Democracy or hand in his resignation.

From the Howard County Democrat-Ban

Those who are afraid to impeach the pro eeedings of the State Democratic Com-mittee in refusing to call a State convention evidently are in favor of bossism in its worst sense.

From the Stoddard County Democrat. The Democratic State Committee met at St. Louis last Saturday for the purpose of deciding whether they would call a State convention. Through the smooth schemes of Chairman Maffitt it was decided not to call a convention. This little scheme is an outrage and an insult to the Democracy of Missouri. Dignity and Comfort

The white of an egg is one of the most efficient remedies for a burn or a scald, excluding the air at once and affording relief. It is also used for an antidote for several poisons, taken internally, especially those of a corrosive nature.

Devilled Mushrooms.

Devilled mushrooms are delicious. Pare the mushrooms, sprinkle them with cayenne and a little sait and roll them in some grated Parmesian. If the latter is not liked, grated breaderumbs may be substituted, but the bread should have previously been dried in the oven. Have ready some fancifully shaped pieces of thin, crisp, fried toast, keep them hot and bake the mushrooms briskly, lay them on the toast and serve them very hot.

Angels' Pudding.

Two ounces of flour, two of sugar, two of butter, a pint of cream and the whites of three eggs. Bake in patty pans; cover with icing and serve without sauce. Home-Made Candy.

Home-Made Candy.

To two cupfuls of granuiated sugar add the grated rind and half the juice of a small orange, together with enough cold water to thoroughly moisten the sugar. When it come to a boil add half a cupful of desiccated, or better, freshly grated cocoanut. Let it boil, without stirring, until it stiffens in cold water, so that you can take it up in a very soft ball. Take from the fire and set saucepan and all in a cool place until the syrup is nearly cool; then stir vigorously until it becomes thick and white and pour quickly on a buttered plate. Cut in squares.

Chocolate Pudding.

Boll one quart of milk, add a tea-cup of butter, one of sugar and three ounces of grated chocolate. When cool, add the yolks of four eggs. Pour in a pudding-dish lined with cake. Bake, cover with meringue and brown.

Taking Care of Waists. Evening waists and bodices, especially hose made partially or wholly of chiffon, hould be stuffed with soft tissue paper and id in deep boxes or on freshly papered oset shelves in preference to being hung, as they are thereby not only kept freshly, but retain their shape as long as they worn.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Goldbugs or Gold Men? To the Editor of the Post-Dispetch.

The upholders and ratifiers of the silver demonetization act of 1873 presumptuously and faisely call themselves the "sound

RAN THROUGH THE STREETS. Henry Schwartz Unable to Extinguish His Burning Clothing. Special to The Post-Dispatch. KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 10.—Henry

Schwarts died a horrible death this morn-ing. Someone left the gasoline can in the kitchen open last night. This morning when Schwartz struck a match to light the fire there was an explosion and his ciothing ignited. He tried to put out the flames, but failed. Crazed with pain, he rushed about the house, fell off the side porch and rolled in the street. Still the flames burned. The now insane man then ran nine blocks before he could be taken sare of. During the run all of his clothing burned, leaving only a horribly disigured human body.

Kohlen-by-Ringstedt in Germany. The cause alleged for his imprisonment is liability to service in the army of the country but as he is provided with passports from the Department of State and is moreover much under the height required for recruits, it is thought there are other and unstated reasons. Just before the illness began which subsequently caused his death, Secretary Gresham received some startling information concerning the continued imprisonment of an American citizen in Germany, and although his illness prevented immediate action in the matter, the department has now taken hold of it vigorously.

TWBED'S SON MISSING.

Has Not Been at His Home for Many

NEW YORK, June 10.-Geo. Young Tweed son of "Boss" Tweed of New York, has een missing from the place where he lived on West Forty-fourth street for eleven days. He disappeared in a strange manner. He He disappeared in a strange manner. He left behind no intimation of his intention, departing with only the clothes he wore and little, if any, money. Search in his accustomed haunts and at the Morgue has been fruitless. No report, however, has yet been made to the police of his disappearance. The young man had an excellent education. He was brought up and educated in Paris, staying there for ten years. He spoke three languages fluently. Although at one period he dabhied in art, he never became an especially proficient painter. Until he reached his majority he was under the care of a guardian, who was appointed to look after the Tweed children when the father died in the early seventies.

There is now in Ponath's possession $279.24, which, it is alleged, he refuses to turn over. He has paid her in all $284, but holds $279.24, claiming that he is entitled to a commission for the sale of the property. Meyer and O. J. Mudd, attorneys for Mrs. Kortlander, say Ponath is entitled to no commission, as he never made a sale of the property, and that he negotiated no loan. After Mrs. Kortlander employed Mr. Mudd the property was transferred to her by Mrs. Koch for a consideration of $50. Meyer claims that fraud was used in inducing Mrs. Koch to sign the agreement in Ponath's office and that he is guilty of embezzling the amount which he now holds and refuses to account for.

There is a suit now pending in the Circuit Court over the property and Ponath, in his answer to the petition, claims that he holds the balance to secure his commission and other services.

MARRIED HIS FIRST WIFE.

Patrick Myles Again United With the Woman He Was Once Divorced From.

Woman He Was Once Divorced From.

Patrick J. Myles, a stereotyper, has returned to his first love after nearly two years' experience with another wife, whom he took away from her husband at the time he deserted his own. And now his second wife threatens to kill him on sight.

Six years ago Myles, then of 2500 Benton street, wedded pretty Nellie Christmana, and they set up housekeeping at 4351 Cote Brilliante avenue. There they lived happily until two yars ago. Then Patrick fell. He became infatuated with Mrs. Nellie Lapp. The love was returned and, as a result, Mrs. Lapp secured a divorce from her husband, while Mrs. Myles secured one on the ground of desertion. After the decrees Myles and Mrs. Lapp wedded, living together until six months ago, when the woman, tired of her second attempt at wedded bilss, applied for and got a divorce for cruelty.

Myles' attention now turned to his first love. They made up and Monday a marriage license was followed by a wedding in Justice Hanley's office. No sooner had the ceremony been effected than Myles returned to his work, saying he would return to supper and so Mrs. Myles now awaits him.

This new turn of Myles' love does not suit Mrs. Lapp-Myles, though she herself sought separation and she now threatens to shoot Myles on sight. The original and last Mrs. Myles is a comely woman of 25. Her husband is a brawny, good-looking stereotyper.

FAME AND A WIFE FOR A GENTLEMAN FARMER.

Both Come to Darnley Waters Through the Girl in the Tam O'Shanter.

Darnley Waters had grown morose and passimiste. His rooms at 25 Vance street were in disorder. Rough sketches were scatared here and there about the floor. Palette and brushes were lying on a table in a neticeted corner. An unfinished picture stood half uncovered on the easel and the artist imself, in a sadly disheveled condition, sat saning his head on his hand and gasing described by uninto the gray day.

OVER, Eng., June 10.—In the regatt DOVER, Eng., June 10.—In the regatta of the Royal Cinque Ports Yacht Club today Alisa and Lritannia started at 12:02 p.m. The Prince of Wales and the Duke of York were on board the former. The sky was overcast, and a fresh northeast breeze was blowing. Both the big racers, carrying their four plain working sails, crossed the starting line too soon and were recalled. In the race for the twenty raters Niagara, Stephanie, Audrey and Luna started at 12:30 p.m. Niagara crossed too soon and was recalled, with the result that she got away last. In the early stages of the race Luna was about thirty seconds ahead of the smaller yachts, with Stephanie second. These craft in a heavy thunder storm finished the first round as follows: Niagara, 2:01:10; Luna, 2:01:53; Stephanie, 2:02:30.

As the race was nearing completion it was evident that the Niagara was winning easily. Luna was far behind.

The following were the times of the twenty-raters at the finish: Niagara, 3:16:50; Luna, 3:22:15; Stephanie, 3:23:32.

WEST VS. EAST.

California College Athletes Have Surprised the Eastern Enthusiasts.
CHICAGO, Ill., June 10.—The athletic meet next Saturday between the Chicago Ath-letic Association team and that of the Uniletic Association team and that of the University of California will be the grand finale of Western athletics for the season of 1896. In more than one respect the season has been one of the most successful the college world of the West has ever enjoyed. Records of all kinds have been treated with utter disregard for conventionalities, and even the East, which has always claimed superiority in college athletics, has had a chance to see what kind of athletes can be produced in the West.

Taking it all in all, the Western college world has taken a tremendous slide in all kinds of athletics during the season that will soon close and many enthusiasts, probably not without reason, see but a short time intervening when the West will stand at the head of athletics in the country.

BOB AND JOHN.

Fitzsimmons Tells Sullivan He Is as

NEW YORK, June 10 .- Bob Fitzsimmons shared John L. Sulivan's dressing-room at the Madison Square Garden recently. The conversation naturally drifted to Fitz-simmons' coming match with Corbett and other fistic affairs. In speaking of Dempsey, the big fellow said there never lived a gamer man. Fitzsimmons voiced the same sentiments. Talking about Fitzsimmons' coming match with Corbett, Sullivan asked: "Do you really think you can beat him? He's a mighty clever man."

"Well, repiled Fitzsimmons, "I am more than confident that I can beat him. He's not so hard a game as some people may think. He is clever, so am I."

"He licked me, you know," said Sullivan smilingly. Then Jack McAuliffe entered the room. He greeted Sullivan and Fitzsimmons cordially.

Sullivan afterwards called on Champion Corbett. The two men, who have not been on friendly terms for some time, greeted each other good-naturedly and had quite a chat. Sullivan wished Corbett success over Fitzsimmons and Corbett in turn thanked him heartily.

ILLINOIS TRACKS ARE TREMBLING.

Legislature May Kill Them Before the Session Ends.

BOODLE READY TO BE USED

Should the Lawmakers Refuse to Pass the Hawthorne and Harlem Bill It Will Close East Side.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 10.—Racing men all over the country and especially those at Chicago and St. Louis will be interested in the proceedings of the Illinois Legislature between now and next Thurs-day, the date set for the adjournment. day, the date set for the adjournment. Unless the race track magnates manage to get a bill through legalizing pool selling and bookmaking during some limited period in which racing may take place, it is concluded that the outlook for the sport in the State is very dublous. Without a bill to protect them the race tracks will be left at the mercy of the local authorities and such organizations as the Civic Federation of Chicago.

protect them the race tracks will be left at the mercy of the local authorities and such organisations as the Civic Federation of Chicago.

As far as Chicago is concerned it is conceeded that this would be the direct of calamities, as it is taken for granted that President Baker and his associates in the Federation will surely break up any race of the track gambling in Cook County, as long as it is not legalized. For some reason or the Hawthorne was not disturbed last week, but the announcement that racing would continue there this week caused the Federation to wake up, and a contemplated raid on its part resulted in the Hawthorne outfit deciding to discontinue business for the time being. Harlem is advertised to reopen Thursday, but it is not believed the gates will be thrown open, unless a bill is put through. In the meantime the Corrigan-Hankins combination will concentrate their efforts, through representatives here, to have a bill favorably considered. Gov. Aligeld may not sign it, but the racing men claim that that does not mean he will veto it. Dispatches from Chicago say that race track representatives have left for this point, with the necessary sinews of war for an attack on the committee which has the racing bills under consideration.

The Harlem and Hawthorne people first wanted a 90-day bill with a foreign book, but it is now understood that they are willing to accept a 60-day bill without a foreign book. The latter bill has since been tabled, however, and it seems to be taken for granted that there is no chance for the 90-day bill with a foreign book.

The opposition to this measure is strong, and if the tracks get anything it will be a much shorter racing period without the obnoxious foreign book.

It is understood that something like $100.000 is here to be used in getting a bill through. Racing men from Chicago are responsible for the circulation of this responsible for the cir

SHIPPED TO LATONIA.

Faraday, Arcadia, Ace and Pocahontas

Leave the Fair Grounds.

James Murphy, Col. Bob Holloway's partner and trainer, shipped their stable to Latonia yesterday. The Holloway-Murphy and the speedy 2-year-old Hindoo filly, Arcadia. The stable stood third among the list of winning owners, with $5,725 to its credit. Arcadia won the Brewer's Handicap last Tuesday and Faraday captured the Mound City Handicap Saturday. Ace was also a good winner at the meeting.

Before Murphy shipped to Latonia M. Mack, the owner of Robert Latts, offered him $2.500 for Ace, but the proposition was rejected, and Mack was told he could have the horse for nothing less than $3.000. In this connection it may be mentioned that Ace was entered in a selling race during the early part of the meeting for $300, and if he had not won, a certain owner intended to claim him. He would have gotten the horse for $1,200 or $1,200 considering the price put on the horse, the owner who intended to take him out of the claiming race would have gotten a great bargain had his plans succeeded.

land, fell into the hands of a St. Louis constable before he was shipped to Council Bluffs, Ic., where he won a race or two last week. Deacon did not have any luck at the Fair Grounds, and about the time he concluded to get out of town one of his stable hands by the name of Larkin had the horse attached for something like $67 for back wages. The case was in Judge Hanley's court, and at the solicitation of Bookmaker Louis Cella, a friend of his named Epstein went on Deacon's bond and the case was continued. In the meantime, Deacon went to Council Bluffs with his horse, and when the case came up Larkin got judgment for his claim. This left the matter with Cella's friend Epstein, who made himself responsible by going on Deacon's bond. He will have to fall back on Deacon for his money.

men, at the meeting held at Albany, N. T., on Wednesday, decided to submit for a little while longer to the "Czar-like rulings" of the L. A. W. Racing Board, though a committee will await upon the prominent manufacturers to suggest that the various firms unite in instructing their teams to ride as professionals in a new organization which it is proposed to form.

As a matter of fact, everybody interested in the sport is eminently satisfied with the "Czar-like rulings" of the board, with the exception of those riders who have been guilty of violating the racing rules, and as the Cycle Board of Trade recently expressed entire satisfaction with the way in which racing matters are now being governed, and suggested periodical meetings between the Racing Board and their Executive Committee, it is hardly likely that the manufacturers will indores the proposed change.

Chicago Road Mace.

It is now uncertain over what course the run-off of the Chicago road race will take place, if it takes place at all. The party of wheelmen who surveyed the course from Fort Sheridan into Gault avenue do not seem disposed to favor that route, as there is a very large patch of almost unridable road on the way. Mr. Marrett says that in all probability the course from Wheeling into Chicago will be used. As it appears now, there is no certainty whatever that the race will be run at all.

for Turner of the Philadelphias, but water success.

Kissinger is not the pitcher that Clarkson is, but will prove useful at times, while Bonner is a good man at the stick, though it is hoped that he will not be as ungracious as Tom Brown and do poor work after so much talk about his abilities.

The prospects for the Browns are now much brighter. With Bonner in Dowd's place and Denny Lyons back on third, the St. Louis boys can play a winning game.

"Silver" King is practicing at the Browns' park and negotiations are on foot with Cincinnati with a view to having the old-time player again join the team.

BASE BALL HOLDOUT.

Old War Between Chris and the Wag-ners Still Goes On.

The trouble that Manager Buckenberger is having over the gate receipts in Wash-

The trouble that Manager Buckenberger is having over the gate receipts in Washington is only another chapter of the quarrel of Von der Ahe with the Wagners, which dates from the old Cincinnati Association Club. The chapter was begun in St. Louis this season, when Chris held out on the Sanators.

Von der Ahe claimed that the Wagners were part owners of the Cincinnatis and whan the club lost money he wanted those gentlemen to step forward and pay their share, but they disclaimed any right, title or interest in the losing sames. Chris had to put up what, he states, the Wagners owed and he then determined to get even. He has systematically held out on the Washingtons ever since and did so on the series here in May.

Now the Wagners think that two can play at that game and as the Browns are scheduled for as many dates in Washington as the latter is in St. Louis, they adopt the same tactics.

Manager Buckenberger threatens not to play to-day if the settlement for Saturday's game is not made beforehand, but this would mean a forfeit and the Wagners think they can stand that.

This morning von der Ahe wired Buck not to play unless the money was paid, but later a message was received from President Young advising that a security be obtained for the receipts and that they be held in Washington until the matter is adjusted.

CONFESSIONS OF A PLAYER

Hogrisver Tells How They Lushed in the Southern Tengus.

"The moral standard of he-ball players is improving year after year," says George Hogriever. "Several years ago the players, especially those in union leagues, carried all sorts of irregularities to excess. The result was that managers had to call a decisive halt, and the good effects of this prohibition halt, and the good effects of this prohibition.

ern League several years ago we had the greatest 'lushing' team in the business. Tom Parrott, Billy Earle and one or two others were all right, but the balance of the gang were about half seas over all the time.
"Such a thing as having drinking water in the club-house was not tolerated by this gang. Before the game they would have a case of beer smuggled into the club-house. The colored boy who was in charge was then instructed to let all the water in the water cooler run off, the bottled beer was placed on the ice, and so the men were never without their beer."
